

Education Tax Plan Defeated

HARRISBURG (AP)—A $25.6 million tax on unearned income was rejected Wednesday night by the House.

The vote was 78-124, with 106 needed for passage.

Twenty-nine Democrats voted against the measure—designed to finance an expanded state educational program in 1961-62 while only two Republicans supported it.

The defeat sidetracked further action on the educational program before the House.

Majority Leader Stephen McCann previously had said he would not vote any other education bills unless the House first adopted a tax to pay for these measures.

U.S. Backs Latin $20 Billion Floor On 'Progress' Aid

PUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguay (AP)—The United States swung behind a Latin-American version of President Kennedy's Alliance for Progress program Wednesday.

It agreed to the Latin's minimum $20-billion price tag and agreed to drop some aspects originally backed by U.S. representatives.

Delegates drew encouragement from estimates circulating at the inter-American economic and social conference that $20 billion may not even be the minimum committed by U.S. and other foreign sources in a decade of development to Latin America.

The Alliance for Progress blueprint was outlined as the keynote for what will be called the Act of Punta del Este. Delegates from all 20 Latin nations except Cuba are expected to complete work on it by Aug. 16.

It seemed sure that Cuba's Ernesto Guevara—whose two-hour and 15-minute anti-Yankee tirade Tuesday night got nowhere—would not sign the Punta del Este declaration.

Chief architects of the act were Argentina and Brazil—the two most powerful countries in South America.

It asks that funds come not only from the United States but also from other countries, such as Great Britain, West Germany, France, Italy and Japan.

The United States yielded to the Latin's two major objections to the over-all Alliance for Progress project: establishment of a public relations machine in Latin America and a powerful seven-man board to coordinate the hemisphere drive against hunger and poverty.

The public relations proposal probably will be shelved to calm the ruffled feelings of some delegates who feared it smelled too much of a propaganda setup.

Dubbed the "seven wise men" board by some delegates, the supervising agency proposal will be replaced by one with looser reins.

The U.S. delegation, minimizing the changes, was reported pleased with the way things are going at this seaside convention.

All governments were asked to get their programs ready within 18 months—a clear indication the sponsors want each nation to do its own planning.

Informed sources said the $20 billion in capital which could flow into Latin America in 10 years from all sources is really a minimum. They said it could be higher if the Latin-American nations take the international measures necessary to spur their own development.

Even Guevara's anti-U.S. charges, obviously aimed at disrupting the conference, generally were brushed aside by delegates as "lies" and Communist-line propaganda.

The United States charged Guevara tried to stir up internal strife in Venezuela in his speech.

Proxmire Loses Battle; O'Connor In

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's nomination of Lawrence J. O'Connor Jr. to the Federal Power Commission won an 83-12 vote of confirmation in the Senate Wednesday.

The vote climaxed a marathon, round-the-clock battle against the appointment by Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., who called O'Connor an "industry man."

"This is really a shocking situation," said Proxmire just before the roll call.

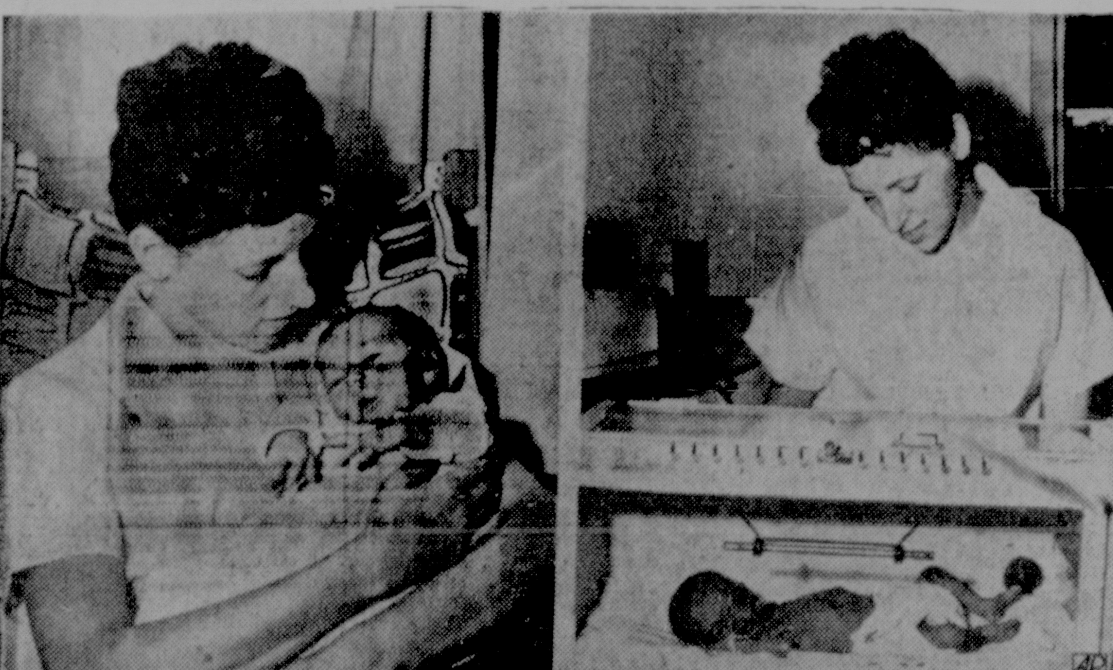

O'Connor, 46, is a former oil company executive of Houston, Tex., who has been serving as oil import administrator for the Interior Department. Kennedy nominated him on June 30 for a five-year term on the power commission.

In what he acknowledged at the outset was a losing fight, Proxmire set a record by holding the floor, technically at least, for 32 hours 45 minutes but everybody seemed to agree it was not a real filibuster.

Although he held continuous possession of the right to speak from Monday until shortly after noon Wednesday, Proxmire actually talked only part of the time. He allowed other senators to speak from time to time and even managed to leave the floor occasionally for a snack.

Good Morning!

A smile is something that cannot be bought, sold or stolen, and it is no good until it is given away.

BABIES BORN TWO MINUTES APART—Michelle Lynn Shaffer, in incubator, is just two minutes older than her brother, Michael Lee, held by Mrs. Rhaymagene Shaffer, — but they are not twins. A staff doctor at Women's Hospital in Cleveland where the infants were born said the rare case was caused by the babies being conceived at different times from different eggs.

The package included: The measure would have levied 2 per cent on rents, royalties, dividends and capital gains of Pennsylvania citizens.

The tenor of the GOP opposition was that they felt the tax singled out only a small segment of the population to support the expanded education program.

Democrats opposed stated, however, that they didn't like the program. This opposition was centered in the big cities, which feel that they don't get a fair share of the state's aid to public schools.

The House adjourned shortly after the tax vote until next Monday. The Senate did not meet.

In other legislative highlights: Trailers—The House approved a compromise on the 40-foot trailer bill which would permit the added length on the trailers (the limit is now 35 feet) while giving truckers five years to put into service the newer, shorter tractors for pulling the trailers. The compromise added five extra feet to the overall length of the tractor-trailer combination to allow for the longer, older tractors.

Originally, the bill would have left the present 50-foot limit on the tractor-trailer combination untouched.

House approval of the compromise sent the measure to Gov. Lawrence for final action.

Local Taxation—The House approved three previously defeated bills revising the base for local property, income and business taxes. Two bills would set 30 per cent of the market value as the minimum assessment for property tax purposes. The other bill would raise the limit on other local taxes.

None of the bills' mandates increased taxes, however. The property tax bill goes to the Senate while the third bill goes to Gov. Lawrence for further action.

Police said the airliner, owned by Cunard-Eagle Line of London and reported chartered to a travel agency, had made brief radio contact with Solva airport near Stavanger.

The pilot radioed he was at 2,000 feet altitude north of the airport, police said, and was lining up for a landing. Then the radio went silent.

British Airliner Missing

STAVANGER, Norway (AP)—A chartered British airliner carrying 34 vacationing British schoolboys, two teachers and three crewmen disappeared Wednesday off Norway's rugged western coast and was feared down in the storm-tossed North Sea.

Airlane officials in London could tell frantic parents only that the plane was reported to have crashed in the sea off Solva after bucking dirty weather on the flight from London to Stavanger.

Hours after the last radio contact with the plane, an airline spokesman said: "By now the aircraft must be presumed down."

The schoolboys, all about 14 years old, were pupils at Lanfranc School in Croydon, a suburb just south of London. Their parents besieged London Airport Wednesday night, frantic for some word of the plane's fate.

Britain's Air Ministry said all shipping off Norway was alerted to search for the plane and that Royal Air Force planes were pressed into the hunt.

Norwegian navy ships, sightseeing yachts and planes put out in heavy rain and strong winds to search the scattered islands of Ryfylke Fjord north of Stavanger.

Police said the airliner, owned by Cunard-Eagle Line of London and reported chartered to a travel agency, had made brief radio contact with Solva airport near Stavanger.

Cuba Frees Hijacked Plane With 81 Aboard

Sky Pirate Identified As A French Algerian

WITH STRINGS ATTACHED—Shroud lines whip out the parachutes of troopers of the 82nd Airborne Division as they leave carrier plane in Operation Swift Strike at Camden, S. C. The maneuvers are the largest United States military operation since World War II.

HAVANA (AP)—A Pan American World Airways DC8 jetliner was hijacked off Mexico Wednesday and flown to Havana with 81 persons aboard. But one of the passengers was a high Colombian diplomat and the Cuban government promptly released the plane.

The aircraft, with only the hijacker remaining in Havana, was cleared for return to Miami about three hours after it landed in Cuba. Lack of adequate jet starting equipment delayed its departure.

Later, a Pan American plane was dispatched from Miami to deliver bottles of compressed air necessary for starting the hijacked jet.

(In Miami, W. L. Morrison, executive vice president of Pan American identified the hijacker as a 29-year-old French Algerian named Ardelia.

(Returning from Havana on a regularly scheduled Pan American flight, Morrison told newsmen:

"The hijackers put a gun in the back of our steward and told him, 'Open the door or I'll shoot you.'"

Cocks Pistol (Once inside the cockpit, Morrison said the hijacker leveled his gun at the pilot's head and ordered him to fly to Havana. At one point, the hijacker apparently thought he was being tricked and that the plane was heading for Miami.

(Morrison added: "He cocked his pistol and was on the verge of shooting the first officer before he was convinced the plane was Havana-bound.")

American military aircraft failed in an attempt to foil the latest in a series of aerial hijackings, as the big Pan American passenger craft cruised toward Havana at nearly 600 m.p.h.

Two Air Force and two Navy jet fighters roared aloft from Florida bases in a fruitless attempt to intercept it. A Pentagon spokesman in Washington emphasized there was no idea of shooting down the airliner. The plan was to try to track and divert it.

Fourth Hijacking Although three prior hijackings of American commercial planes since May 1 led to government authorization to arm aircraft crews, Pan American said the crew of the $5 million jetliner was not armed. Such arming, in this case, would have required approval from the Mexican government.

Then, too, Pan American had anticipated no such hijacking since it is the only American air line operating into Cuba under agreement with Prime Minister Fidel Castro's revolutionary government.

The Pan American ship was en route from Houston, Tex., to Panama City, Panama. It was hijacked shortly after it took off from Mexico City about 1 p.m. EDT on a hop to Guatemala City. It landed in Havana 2½ hours later.

Aboard as a passenger was the foreign minister of Colombia, Julio Cesar Turbay Ayala. With his wife and two high diplomatic aides, he was returning from an official visit to Mexico.

Turbay is one of Castro's most vocal South American critics. Nevertheless, Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa rushed to the Havana airport to give Turbay an official greeting up this unscheduled and captive arrival.

In Defense Later, Havana Radio announced that the hijacked plane was being released "in deference to the Colombian foreign minister."

None of the passengers or crew of the hijacked airliner were injured in any way. Passengers laughed and joked among themselves as they waited at the Havana airport for a decision on their fate.

A storm of protest greeted the latest hijacking. The United States demanded immediate return of the plane, its passengers and crew. Mexico protested the hijacking over its territory.

At the inter-American conference in Uruguay, deLesseps S. Morrison, U.S. ambassador to the Organization of American States, called the hijacking "pure piracy of the airways."

Employs 380 People

Open Negotiations With New Industry

THE POSSIBILITY of attracting another new industry to Monroe County was explored in a meeting here with the owners of two textile mills who seek to consolidate their operations in one plant.

The Daily Record, which initiated the meeting after receiving the first tip of the owners' intentions, was host to the men and a local industrial development group at a noon luncheon at the Penn Stroud Hotel.

The industry representatives said their company was established nearly 30 years ago and now employs 380 persons, a large percentage of whom are male. It has two main plants, one in a building the company owns and another in a leased building, and owns all the machinery.

Yesterday's talks between the owners and the local group centered on site selection, availability of water supply, financing the construction of a new plant and the fact that a sufficient number of textile workers live in this area to permit a smooth transition if the company decides to locate here.

Further Information The local negotiators agreed to provide further information on certain technical points raised by the company, chiefly concerned with an acceptable site, and to call another meeting at an early date.

This was the second industrial expansion meeting at which The Daily Record served as host. The previous one, several weeks ago, was held with representatives of a "heavy" industry.

Attending yesterday's meeting were Christie D. Shull, representing Monroe Security Bank and Trust Co.; M. F. Crowe, Monroe Industries Inc.; LeRoy Mikels, Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce; J. L. Cohen, auditor for Monroe Industries; Gerald P. Shanley Jr., First Stroudsburg National Bank; Horace G. Heller, general manager, and John F. Hill, editor, The Daily Record.

The Philadelphia Democratic delegation, which led opposition to the measure last month, generally went along this time.

Twenty-four of the 38 voted in favor of it. A month ago, only one supported it. At that time, Clark was opposed to the bill.

But the addition of the five feet to the overall length cost the measure some votes this time in the House.

The agreement—worked out by Gov. Lawrence and the objecting truckers, including the firm headed by James P. Clark, Philadelphia city Democratic finance measure of local taxes levied under the so-called "tax-anything" law of 1947.

That act permitted municipalities to place a tax on anything not taxed by the state. Taxes on occupations, wages, investments, and businesses make up the principle levies under this act.

Each of three bills involved had been defeated earlier in the session, but were revived for another vote under the parliamentary rules permitting a defeated bill to be reconsidered once.

Two bills would establish 30 per cent of the market value as the minimum assessment for local property tax bases. The present statewide average is over 42 per cent, but 11 counties assess at less than 30 per cent.

The pair of bills would apply to all but Philadelphia and Allegheny counties. These two counties, however, now assess property at well above 30 per cent of the true value.

Property taxes—which form the bulk of local taxation in the Commonwealth—are levied on the assessed value rather than the market value.

The bills passed by votes of 130-65 and 123-65. One bill applied to the third class counties—the largest counties after Philadelphia and Pittsburgh—and the other applied to the remaining counties.

They now go to the senate for further action.

The third bill affecting tax base would make true property value rather than assessed value the measure of local taxes levied under the so-called "tax-anything" law of 1947.

That act permitted municipalities to place a tax on anything not taxed by the state. Taxes on occupations, wages, investments, and businesses make up the principle levies under this act.

House Sends Trailer Bill To Lawrence

HARRISBURG (AP)—The 40-foot trailer bill concluded Wednesday a long and tedious journey through the Pennsylvania legislature.

The House adopted a compromise on the issue, 135-65. It will go to Gov. Lawrence next week after the presiding officers of the House and Senate affix their signatures to the measure.

The Senate, which adopted the compromise Tuesday, was not in session Wednesday and neither Lt. Gov. John Morgan Davis nor President Pro Tempore Anthony J. DiSilvestro was able to sign the bill.

How To Truckers The compromise bowed to objections of some truckers who complained they would have to replace their tractors with newer, shorter equipment in order to use 40-foot trailers but stay within the overall 50-foot limit of the tractor-trailer combination.

Some Facts On DC8 Jetliner

NEW YORK (AP)—The DC8 jetliner hijacked Wednesday off Mexico can carry up to 168 passengers as far as 5,000 miles. It cost about $5 million.

The Douglas-built plane has a cruising speed of 575 miles per hour.

It is powered by four Pratt & Whitney turbojet engines, each with a thrust of 15,800 pounds. Its wingspan is 139 feet, 9 inches, its length 150 feet, 6 inches, and its height 42 feet, 4 inches.

This is the first Douglas-built jet and the first Pan American liner to be involved in the hijacking episode. It is one of 38 DC8s in the Pan Am fleet.

Americans Not Growing Soft: Hoover

NEW YORK (AP)—Herbert Hoover, chipper and cheery on the eve of his 87th birthday Thursday, scoffs at any idea that Americans are growing soft.

"They are ready for any emergency on earth," the former president told questioners at his annual news conference in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

He said the people are "as deeply patriotic as they've ever been"—prepared to serve their country.

Hoover discussed topics ranging from the Berlin crisis to bone-fishing and baseball, and took an optimistic view concerning each.

He displayed a relaxed manner and sense of humor seldom evident during his White House days when he faced a grim depression.

Gone were the high stiff collars that once were his virtual trademark. He appeared at ease in a gray suit, light blue shirt with soft collar, and a pale gray necktie.

Michael Darinsky Takes Own Life

FOR the second time in 17 days Monroe County has been the setting for a carbon monoxide suicide, authorities reported last night.

Michael Darinsky, 48, Tolyhanna rd. 1, took his own life in his car yesterday, investigators said. Fred Endlein of Newark, N.J., killed himself on July 24 by the same method.

Darinsky ran a hose from the exhaust pipe of his car through the door panel and plugged the holes with plumber's putty, according to Daniel G. Warner, Monroe County coroner.

He then climbed in the back seat and waited for the deadly gases to take effect.

A boy, Robert Mack, who had been selling berries across Route 61 from the parked death car about one mile south of Tolyhanna, saw the car parked back in the shrubbery off the road.

He investigated and saw the hose. He told his mother, and the Mount Pocono police were summoned.

The death was investigated by Mount Pocono police and the coroner.

The body was released on family request to the Grose Funeral Home, Mount Pocono.

Darinsky was unemployed.

Anne G. Farrell, 72, Of Cresco

MISS ANNE G. Farrell, 72, of Cresco, died yesterday at 8 a.m. in Monroe County General Hospital. She had been ill only a short time.

She was born in Brooklyn, N.Y., a daughter of the late John J. and Catherine D'Arcy.

Miss Farrell had been a resident of Barrett Township for the past 11 years with prior residence in Brooklyn, N.Y.

She was a member of St. Ann's Roman Catholic Church, Canadensis, and the Altar and Rosary Society of that church.

Miss Farrell is survived by cousins.

Requiem High Mass will be celebrated Friday at 8 a.m. in St. Ann's Roman Catholic Church, Canadensis, with Msgr. C. A. McHugh officiating. Interment will be in Holy Cross Cemetery, Brooklyn, N.Y.

Friends and relatives may call at the William H. Clark Funeral Home Thursday after 7 p.m. Rosary services will be conducted in the funeral home at 8 p.m. Thursday.

Dilworth Here For Inspection

MAYOR Richardson Dilworth of Philadelphia, will fly by helicopter to the city's Camp William Penn, near Marshalls Creek, today for his annual inspection tour of the facility.

Accompanied by Recreation Commissioner Robert W. Crawford, Mayor Dilworth will leave the Delaware River heliport, at the foot of Chestnut St. aboard the WPCN helicopter. He will spend several hours with the children who are enjoying a two-week encampment.

The facility this week began its eighth and last two-week camping period for boys and girls of the city's playgrounds and recreation centers, many of whom would not be able to spend their vacations away from home otherwise.

Gen. Thomas D. White served as chief of staff of the Air Force from July 1, 1957, to June 30, 1961.

Club Honors Price, Koster

THE STROUDSBURG Lions Club, bereaved in the death of two members, John M. Price and Leon Koster, prominent in juvenile work, paid tribute to the deceased men at the Tuesday night meeting.

At the request of the club president, Lester Abelloff, all joined in a minute of silent prayer. He praised the disabled secretary, John Price, who carried on their civic activities in spite of his handicap.

Resolutions laudatory to the men were put on the records and copies will be sent to the families of the men.

Robert Haigh noted the work Koster had done with the club's annual tribute to the aquatic work of the twin-borough playgrounds.

Haigh suggested that an award be started, called the "Leon Koster Award." The suggestion was received favorably.

William Kopenhaver, chairman of the biennial charity fund drive, urged members to raise money.

Harvey Burrus, Dr. Paul Maxwell and Lester Abelloff exhorted members to put the drive over the top in two weeks.

Abelloff said members should take as their slogan, "You can't know if he will buy unless you ask him."

Portland Lions Make Plans For Carnival Aug. 17-19

THE Portland Lions Club met recently at Otto's Grandview, Route 611, north of Portland. President Morris Fazio presided.

Plans were made for the East Bangor and Portland Lions Club carnival which will be held from Aug. 17-19 at the Mt. Bethel firemen's grounds.

Mason Reimer, chairman of the carnival committee, assigned members to the care of the stands, and it was announced that new rides have been engaged for this year. Directors Harold Kinney and Wallace Stine were appointed by the president to the auditing committee.

The next meeting will not be held Aug. 17, the regular date.

80,000 Schoolless

MEXICO CITY (AP)—More than 80,000 students in Mexico will not be able to enroll in high school next year because of a shortage of schools and teachers, the Ministry of Education predicts.

State Approves Bids For School Additions

Record Harrisburg Bureau
HARRISBURG—Proposed additions to two elementary schools of Stroud Union School District—one of them in Stroudsburg—moved to construction yesterday with approval by the State Department of Public Instruction of bids for the projects received by the local school board.

One of the structures to which an addition will be built is Morey school in Stroudsburg—the other building to be enlarged is Hamilton school in Hamilton Township.

Bids for construction of the Morey school addition, approved by the department, totaled $351,486. The department previously approved a sum of $430,000 that may be financed to cover all costs of the project, including $22,472 for fixtures and equipment, architect's fee, $20,993.76 and costs incident to construction.

Capacity of the school after completion of the addition was placed at 405 pupils. Construction costs of the Hamilton school addition is $193,763, according to the bids approved by the department. In the case of this project the department approved the expenditure of $250,000 to cover all costs of the addition, including fixtures and equipment, $21,518, architect's fee $11,485.86 and costs involved in construction. Capacity of this school was rated at 429 pupils after the addition is completed.

According to construction plans the addition to each school will contain five classrooms, music practice area, and multipurpose unit for assembly and use as a cafeteria.

The addition to the Stroudsburg school will also contain a learning materials center, library and health suite.

Both projects are being financed locally by issuing municipality authority bonds, the department said.

Bangor Kiwanis Plans Program

BANGOR—"Old Times Night" on Aug. 24 at the Colonial Hotel for former and present members was planned when the Kiwanis Club met Tuesday night at the hotel.

Anthony Trigliani presided. He and George Remagen were named to attend the meeting of the Eastern club on Aug. 22 when the new district 17 lieutenant governor will be elected. Trigliani was also named delegate to the state convention to be held Oct. 10 to 12 in Wilkes-Barre.

The invocation was given by Rev. Bert Tapley.

Picnic Scheduled For VFW Grove

BANGOR—Final plans have been made for the area three Democratic picnic to be held Saturday at the VFW grove, Meyers Crossing.

The guest speaker will be Guy Swope, deputy state treasurer.

Study Now, Pay Later Plan OK With Teeners

By EUGENE GILBERT
President, Gilbert Youth Research Co.

COLLEGE is so important to you high school students that most of you would even dive into debt in order to attend.

For years it has been possible for some young people to study now and pay later by arranging loans from colleges or from affluent friends or family. Now New York state has placed college within the economic reach of many more students by authorizing savings banks in the state to offer them loans. These are to be paid back after graduation.

Seventy-three per cent of a cross-country sampling of 951 young people loudly applauded the New York plan.

But, they hastened to add, teen-agers do realize that for every debt there's a day of reckoning. They are not wild about ALL deferred payment programs. For example, fewer than half would like to have a credit card.

But a bank loan for something as important in today's world as college is another matter. Their young minds focus on the education and not on the debt.

Ready to Shoulder Debt
"The amount borrowed would be small compared to what it's giving you," in the opinion of Regina Ennis, 17, Macon, Ga.

But Ross Gibson, 18, La Vale, Md., demurs. "I don't think it's good because it means the boy or girl will be starting in life with a debt to pay."

Eighty-seven per cent of the teen-agers say they, personally, would be willing to borrow to go to college. Ronald Wolff, 18, Seattle, took the financial view, "This is an investment which pays the highest dividends."

Mike Saunders, 16, Lynchburg, Va., vowed: "I would go to college under almost any reasonable conditions."

One of our surveys showed that 73 per cent of the country's young people have to go to college and 69 per cent intend to pay part of the high cost of a higher education.

Now 87 per cent tell us they think teen-agers should share the costs—which may run as high as $2,000 or even $3,000 a year.

Matthew Shedd, 17, Norwalk, Conn., said, "The parents have had it hard enough supporting us for 18 years." And Wayne Gilbertson, 18, Austin, Minn., feels "A person who is given a free ride won't appreciate it as much as someone else." But Thomas Ferrel, 17, Keyser, W. Va., believes college is hard enough for the student without adding financial worries.

Not Good Risks
A young person's loan financing college would be paid back after he became a full-time wage earner. But what about a credit card in the hands of a teen-ager?

Our 951 young people took a long look at themselves and decided they really don't constitute a very good credit risk.

Nevertheless, 51 per cent of the girls and 33 per cent of the boys said they'd like to have a credit card.

Five Injured In Collision On Route 611

TWO ADULTS and three children were injured yesterday at 1:10 p.m. in an automobile accident on Route 611 about four miles north of Stroudsburg.

Injured were Margaret Fulmer, 24, Carlisle, with lacerations to the right knee; Patricia Boyd, 24, of Allentown, lacerations of the chin and left leg; Connie Fulmer, six months, lacerations of the right shoulder; David Boyd, 14 months, lacerations of the right eye, and Debbie Boyd, three and a half, bruised chin and knees. All were treated in Monroe County General Hospital and released.

Police identified the drivers of the cars as Rebecca Starr, 58, of Cranford, N. J., and Margaret Fulmer, 24, of Carlisle.

Both cars were traveling north on Route 611 when Mrs. Fulmer passed the Starr vehicle, sideswiping it, losing control and crashing into a concrete abutment alongside the highway, police said.

The Fulmer car received $1,000 damage and the Starr vehicle $200. Damage was estimated by police investigating the accident.

C. D. Asked To Suggest Raid Steps

BANGOR—A team of Northampton County Civil Defense officials will be asked to visit Bangor Area Schools and recommend necessary steps for air raid protection.

This was decided last night by the Bangor Area Joint School Committee during a discussion of possible Civil Defense drills to be instituted in the schools this year.

The board acknowledged receipt of a 50-star flag flown over the nation's capital. The flag was forwarded by Congressman Francis E. Walter, and will be used for the dedication of the new senior high school late this year.

An inspection of buildings will take place August 28.

Divorces Up 30%

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Officials say Mexico's divorce rate has jumped 30 per cent since last year. More than 6,000 couples have been divorced in Mexico City since Jan. 1.

WHADDAYA DOING HERE?—Three Canadian geese, at top, and three Mallard duck hens, in bottom line, swim happily in an unidentified lake in Southern Pike Co. Fact is, Canadians and Mallards are not supposed to be in this section of the country at this time of year. The birds are migratory and should be hundreds of miles north of the Poconos. Perhaps the parents, who stayed to raise these young last Spring, took a shine to the Poconos. Why leave a good thing?

Rep. Walter Presides Over House

WASHINGTON—Rep. Francis E. Walter presided throughout the day-long activities in the house of representatives Tuesday.

When the House convened, Speaker Sam Rayburn called Walter to the chair and asked that he fill in for him during the deliberations.

The afternoon session included three quorum calls on the debate on whether Congress should provide for one additional Assistant Secretary of Labor. The bill was passed by a voice vote, presided over by Walter.

High point of the day's action came in mid-afternoon with announcement that a Pan-American World Airways jet plane was hijacked and diverted towards Cuba. The announcement immediately touched off a rash of outbursts from congressmen on both sides of the aisle.

The Easton Congressman frequently serves as speaker pro tem at the request of Mr. Rayburn, particularly in debates where there is heated controversy.

Radar Checks Near

HARRISBURG (AP)—State police said Wednesday final preparations are being made to implement radar for clocking highways speeders.

Legalized radar goes into effect Sept. 1.

Evidence obtained against speeders through radar will be legal in Pennsylvania courts for the first time.

Commissioner Frank G. McCarty said 104 state troopers have been assigned to radar teams throughout the state.

He said they have "been thoroughly trained in a week-long course in radar theory and practice" at the State Police Academy in nearby Hershey.

Each of the 16 state police troops in the Commonwealth will have one radar team of four men, plus two relief men, except the Pennsylvania Turnpike troop which will have two teams.

McCarty said the teams "have been instructed to be scrupulously fair to all motorists in the use of radar on the highway, and I am confident they will be."

The radar law contains a tolerance provision of 5 miles per hour. Thus no arrests can be made through radar timing unless a motorist is clocked at 6 MPH above the posted speed limit.

The devices may be used only on state highways and the turnpike.

Extended Forecasts

Extended Forecasts for Aug. 10 through Aug. 14:

Southeastern New York, Eastern Pennsylvania and New Jersey — Temperatures are expected to average 2 to 4 degrees above normal in New Jersey and extreme southern sections of Pennsylvania and New York, with about normal readings elsewhere. Warm through Friday, changing to cooler about Saturday and little change thereafter. Precipitation may total one-tenth to six-tenths of an inch in New Jersey and extreme southern sections of New York and Pennsylvania with higher amounts expected elsewhere, occurring about Saturday and possibly again about Monday.

Middle Atlantic States—Temperatures will average near or slightly above normal. Warm weather will be followed by cooler over the weekend. Rain amounts will average more than 1/4 inch, occurring as showers about Saturday and Sunday and a few isolated showers Thursday and Friday.

MR. AND MRS. Carl Gardner of Interlaken, N. J., spent Sunday with Mr. Gardner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gardner.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Portland Fire Co. will hold a covered dish supper Monday, Aug. 14 at 6:45 p.m. at Lake

Poco. Each member is requested to take a covered dish and place setting.

A deed recorded in the office of Recorder of Deeds Charles L. Young at the County Court House at Easton shows that the Albert J. Stem estate sold a property, house and land, on Route 611, upper Mount Bethel Township, just south of Portland, to Mr. and Mrs. William J. Owens of Bangor. The purchase price was $17,000.

Aug. 31 will be the last day that the county and borough taxes, both real estate and occupation can be paid at net.

After that date there will be a 5 percent penalty added to the tax. The same date will be the last day that the school real estate and per capita can be paid to receive a 2 percent discount. After that date the net amount will be collected for September and October.

Mrs. Fred Shumaker celebrated her birthday anniversary Wednesday, and Mrs. Lettie Lewis will observe her day on Friday.

Terry Wildrick and Leo Reimer are spending four days at West Chester as delegates of Student Council of Bangor

Joint Area High School. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gardner returned to their home Saturday after spending a week at Ocean Grove, N. J. They were accompanied home by their daughters, Mrs. John Ribbie and her daughter, Patsy, of town, and Mrs. William Cornwell Jr. and her daughter, Terri, of Blairstown, N. J. and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bair of Blairstown, N. J., who spent several days at Ocean Grove. Portland Bible School commencement will be held tonight at 7:30 in the Portland Baptist Church.

Consult Tax Attorney

By William A. Doyle
Q. My late husband was a lawyer. He practiced his profession for 50 years. During his lifetime, we bought stock and always had it registered in his name and my name "as joint tenants, with right of survivorship and not as tenants in common." Also, his will named me as his only heir.

My husband always told me that, because the stocks were registered as they were, I owned half the stocks and that the half I owned would not be part of his estate. My husband passed away a few months ago.

Now, other lawyers tell me that I have inherited the stocks but they say that all the stocks must be included in my husband's estate for Federal estate tax purposes — unless I can prove that I earned the money to purchase the stocks. Naturally, I can't prove any such thing. I never worked.

These young lawyers claim that the total value of these stocks will be added to my husband's estate. As a result, the Federal estate tax will be considerable. Are these lawyers correct?

A. This is going to be a blow to you. Yes, they are right.

I used more of your letter than I normally would, because it is typical of many addressed to this column. Those lawyers explained the situation in a nutshell.

This point up a situation many people do not understand. The tax laws are very complicated. Your late husband, in his legal practice, evidently did not specialize in Federal and state death tax situations.

When a family has any sizable wealth — so that a death may result in an estate tax — that family should seek individual advice from a good tax lawyer.

Death tax levies can be kept down, by sensible planning. But each family needs individual advice, because each family's situation is somewhat different from each other family.

No newspaper column can solve each family's tax problems. So, please, dear readers, don't deluge me with questions on this subject. I'll only tell you to consult a competent tax attorney.

Q. I have before me a listing of U.S. Treasury securities. It shows a large number of different issues, including various discount bills, notes and bonds. The yields on the different issues vary all the way from less than one percent to over four percent. These are all direct debt obligations of the Federal government. Why should the yields vary so greatly?

A. Take another look at that list. You'll notice that those debt issues with the shortest maturities have the lowest yields and those with the longest maturities have the highest yields.

Short-term debt pays a lower yield than long-term debt. If you buy a U.S. Treasury bill note or bond due to mature in, say, two months, you know that the Treasury will pay off, at par value, on the day the issue matures. That's a short term. You'll pay a relatively high price for the security results in a relatively low yield.

But, if you buy a Treasury debt security due to mature in 10 years, you'll pay a lower price. A lower purchase price on a fixed-income security results in a higher yield.

Ornamental Onions Popular

By George Abraham

A LOT of attention is being given to ornamental onions, known in the trade as Alliums. These flowering onions are used by florists and gardeners for flower arrangements and for decorative effect in the border.

Their culture is simple: a sunny well-drained soil. So far few or no insects or diseases are known to plague the flowering onions.

You plant the bulbs 3 to 4 inches deep and let them flower during the Summer. In the Fall the bulbs are dug and stored in a cool dry place. In severe climates, some gardeners have good luck mulching the bulbs with 6 to 10 inches of straw, but a safer bet would be to dig the bulbs and store them in a cellar.

However, most bulb firms ship in Fall only, so you can plant them in the Fall, mulch them well (in case of severe winters) and have the bulbs bloom in early Summer. Here are a few alliums to try (please forgive the jaw-breaking names of the species. They are listed that way in the catalogs):

A. afflatunense, purple blooms, on three-foot stems, ideal for cutting in May. A. alhoplism, pinkish blooms 10 inches across, on two-foot stems, good cut flower in June. A. azureum, compact blue flowers on two-foot stems. Blooms in July. A. giganteum, the most magnificent of all alliums. Large heads of light violet flowers on five-foot stems, ideal for borders and cut flowers in June.

A. cowanii, pure white flowers on long stems in May and June, 2 to 2½ feet high. A. karata-viense, reddish-lilac blooms and red-tinged metallic foliage, blooms in May on 15 inch stems. A. moly, a small golden garlic with yellow flowers on one-foot stems, in June. Ideal for rock gardens.

A. oestrowskianum zwannenburg, has carmine-red heads in June. Ideal for rock garden. Blooms in June. A. puchellum, has long pointed buds opening to violet-pink folwers in August on two-foot stems, ideal as cut flower.

The Plant Doctor: What causes brown spots in lawns? First, look for grubs under the sod. If present, scatter chlordane, DDT or dieldrin in the lawn, a process which grub-proofs your lawn for five years.

Check for gasoline spillage from a tipped mower, also dog-burns, hidden rocks and fertilizer burns. Usually at end of a lawn where you stop the spreader, some excess chemical plant food drops to the turf if you fail to shut it off.

Look for leaking gas lines. Methane gas produces a definite discoloration on grass. Methane also travels through porous soils so it may affect vegetation at some distance from the actual site of the leak.

Utility companies have an electronic analysis machine which detects the presence of methane. If all tricks have been tried to track down off color grass, we suggest your summoning the aid of a gas company.

Next week: More on Green Thumb sleuthing. Don't miss it! Compost Piles: Sandy soils and clay types cry aloud for humus, and the best way to get humus into the soil is by composting, or adding organic materials.

Weeds, grass leaves, scraps of vegetable matter, sawdust, soil, animal manures and chips are all fine for making a compost Summer's the time to start a compost out of waste material.

A compost pile is like having money in the bank. If you want to know more about one, send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope care of The Daily Record, and ask for my bulletin, How To Make A Compost Pile. It helps you turn rubbish into gold!

Question Box

By George Abraham

E. D. of Stroudsburg: "Our tomato plants do nothing but produce a lot of rank foliage. Some of them have tiny green tomatoes on which eventually will be nice, but I can't understand why all the foliage."

Usually if the nights are cool and there is plenty of moisture in the soil (either through irrigation or rain), you get lots of foliage and few blossoms setting. Tomato blossoms do not pollinate themselves when the night temperature is below 59 degrees F.

Some varieties are affected more than others, and chances are the ones you're having difficulty with are late tomatoes, such as Marglobe, Rutgers, or some of the California varieties which are variable.

Hot weather means faster growth and better fruit setting, so you should have no further difficulty. Incidentally, temperature is more important than light in ripening fruit.

Color development is slow at temperatures below 65 degrees and develops best between 65 and 75 degrees. In other words, picking the fruit green and placing them in a bright window won't ripen it unless the temperature is between 65 and 75 degrees. The light has little to do with ripening.

If your plants have a lot of foliage, you can hasten ripening a little by removing some of the foliage. This raises the temperature of the fruit during the day, and may hasten the maturity of tomatoes up to 3 days.

C. D. of Portland: "We have a European cut leaf birch which is growing beautifully. Last week children pulled strips of bark off the trunk, causing brown patches. Will this harm the tree?"

Yes, it's bad for the tree to have the bark peeled off birch trees. While your tree may not die, it becomes more susceptible to insects and diseases. Campers should refrain from peeling bark from birch trees because it not only ruins the appearance, but also endangers the trees.

P.S. of Bangor: "We have a blue hydrangea and a pink (Please turn to page eighteen)

Dear Abby

Give Her A Busy Signal

Dear Abby: There is a woman who works where I work. She seems okay, but is sort of nervy. Almost every afternoon, during our 2 o'clock break, she asks me to stand by the telephone while she dials a number, and then she has me ask for "Frank." Now I don't know what this is all about, and don't ask any questions because I figure it's none of my business.

I happened to mention it to my wife, and she said I should tell this woman to ask for Frank herself. I don't want to make an enemy, and it's no big deal to do this small favor for a co-worker. Do you see anything wrong with it?

JERRY: Dear Jerry: I see the same thing wrong with it your wife sees. You are being used. It looks like a case of hanky-panky with Frankie.

Dear Abby: I am 15 and my boy friend is 16. We are very much in love. Abby, I would do anything for him, but I don't want to get into trouble. Why don't parents let us teenagers get married and help us get started so we won't get into trouble. It's not only bad girls who get into trouble. Sometimes a girl is really in love. Please help us.

DEEPLY IN LOVE: Dear Abby: You suggest that parents should "shut" children by letting them marry as soon as they are biologically mature, so they may fulfill their physical urges freely. There is much more to marriage. "Emotional" maturity is the first qualification. An emotionally mature person can handle life's problems and support himself. Don't mistake your first romantic impulses for a love that will endure a lifetime. Learn something about your "emotions" and how to control them before you consider marriage.

Dear Abby: I am a young woman in my early twenties, unmarried, and living with my parents. I have a job, but earn a very meager salary. I also pay my mother for my room and board.

My problem is that last year I received nine baby announcements from my girl friends. Many of them repeats from the year before. And many of them are expecting again this year. I want to know if I am obliged to acknowledge each announcement with a gift. I enjoy buying gifts, but it cuts my finances so badly it hurts.

PUZZLED: Dear Abby: If you can't afford a gift, acknowledge the announcement with a card.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to Abby in care of The Daily Record. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

World Of Suzie Wong To Open At Playhouse

"THE WORLD OF Suzie Wong," Broadway's famous romance of the Orient will be the next attraction at Pocono Playhouse, Mountainhome, beginning Monday, August 14. The exotic actress Pei Ling will have the lead role, co-starring with Karl Fredericks.

"The World of Suzie Wong" is a tender and frequently touching denial of the fact that East is East and West is West and never the twain shall meet. Paul Osborn, who wrote the play from Richard Mason's novel of the same name, deals with pretty volatile stuff, but it remains a simple romance, strangely conventional.

Set in a sordid section of Hong Kong, the action centers around the guests of a run-down hotel where the charms of Oriental maidens are an added attraction. Among the guests is a young Canadian painter who falls in love with one of the more attractive Chinese bar butterflies. In spite of her delightful indifference to morality, he maintains a high minded attitude towards her and, unlike the fate of "Madam Butterfly," things turn out happily for the girl and the painter finds solace with his English sweetheart.

Pei Ling, who has the role of Suzie Wong, is a native of Formosa and pursued her theatrical career in New York at the Ballet Arts and Academy of Dramatic Arts. She is one of the finest Oriental high fashion models in the United States and has made theater appearances both here and in Canada.

Karl Fredericks, as the young painter, is repeating the role he made famous on a national tour of "Suzie Wong." He has appeared on Broadway in "See the Jaguar," "The Vigil," "Doomsday" and "The Other Side."

Others in the supporting cast include Andrea Lea, Carl Reindel, Howard Morton, Alfred Leberfeld, Erin Murphy, Kam Lan Lum, Ken Chung, Paula Chin and Kazuko Harada.

"The World of Suzie Wong" is directed by David Kitchen and will continue through Saturday night, Aug. 19, with matinees on Wednesday and Saturday. Reservations for tickets may be made by phoning LY 5-7456.

Old Miners To Picket For Pensions

COALDALE, Pa. (AP) — Some 16,000 retired hard coal miners, financially pinched by pensions cut more than two-thirds, are considering an old economic weapon, the picket line, in an effort to better their lot.

The grizzled veterans of mine union wars have been summoned to a mass meeting Aug. 20 at a high school field to consider action against mine operators and, possibly their own union, the United Mine Workers.

The meeting has been called by a group which has named itself the Panther Valley Pensioned Miners Protest Committee. The pensioners expected upon retirement at age 60 to receive $100 monthly from the anthracite health and welfare fund.

But several years ago the payments were dropped to $50 a month. Recently the checks have been for only $30 — and they've been arriving a month late.

Mart Brennan of Hazleton, trustee of the welfare fund, told inquiring pensioners that the fund is almost broke. He said this was because mine operators have been failing to pay 70 cents a ton royalties as provided by the UMW contract.

Bituminous Pensions
Retired bituminous (soft coal) miners still are getting their $100 checks and their own fund reportedly is worth $100 million. The UMW's assets—separate from welfare funds—at the last public accounting also were about $100 million.

Charles Nedd, head of the protest committee, said he feels that coal operators must pay the 70 cents a ton royalty since that amount already has been tacked on to the price consumers pay. The relatively few remaining operators in this financially distressed industry claim they will be forced out of business if they must continue the 70 cent payments.

One estimate, unconfirmed, is that $3.5 million should have been paid into the anthracite welfare fund already this year, enough for it to meet all obligations.

The pensioners have asked UMW President Thomas Kennedy, a native of Lansford, for a meeting but have been unsuccessful. They've asked Secretary of Labor Arthur Goldberg for the latest UMW financial report and for anthracite production figures.

Inquiry Asked
And one group asked Attorney General Robert Kennedy to investigate the UMW and reports of million dollar loans to coal companies by the union. This bid also failed.

Nedd says that even if the anthracite welfare fund is broke he and the other retired miners "are the fellows who built this fund" and "can't see why President (Thomas) Kennedy needs a hundred million dollars, while the men who made him and the union ... can't even get their $50 a month pensions."

Portland

Mrs. Gwladys Carpenter
Phone TW 7-6936

MRS. LELA Williams of Slateford and Mrs. E. Randall Carpenter spent Tuesday at Hershey where they visited the Hershey Rose Gardens. Enroute home they visited "Wheatland", the home of the only Pennsylvanian to become president of the United States, James Buchanan at Lancaster.

Mrs. Arthur Barton of Columbia RD. N. J., and Miss Ruth Jones of town were Tuesday guests of Mrs. Barton's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Barton at Palmerton.

Rev. Charles Cummings occupied the pulpit of the Portland Presbyterian Church after a two weeks' vacation during which time the pulpit was occupied by Rev. Luther Markin of Sciota. At the Sunday morning worship there was special music by the men of the choir, Rev. Charles Cummings, C. J. Kneeling, Everett Hughes, Morris Hauser and Walter C. Emery.

Miss Agnes Williams of Newville, is spending some time with Mrs. Lela Williams at Slateford. Miss Williams is a former resident of Slateford. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Mallet and sons, John and Kenneth, of Oak Ridge, Tenn., spent a week with Mr. and Mrs. William Kennedy.

The Dorcas Class of the Portland Baptist Sunday School will meet at the home of Mrs. James Shoemaker Friday at 8 p.m.

Friday night, August 25 is Portland School Band Carnival and Picnic night at the Mount Bethel Firemen's Grounds. Committees of Band and Majorette Parents are already working on the project. The School Band will provide music under the direction of Kenneth Fritz. The majorettes will perform under Karen Ronca's direction. There will be specialty numbers. Games and food will be available.

Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Schultz and daughter, Pat, of Danville RD.; Mrs. Clarence Royer, son Larue and daughter Sharon of Milton RD.; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hester of Tatamy spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Dalberg. Mrs. Gertrude Shupp, Walter Kunkle and LeRoy Keller returned home from the General and Palmerton Hospitals respectively.

The following reunion with whom local residents are associated will be held at the West End Fair Grounds: Kresge reunion, Willard Kresge president, will be held on Saturday afternoon, Aug. 19. The Frable clan, Elwood Frable, president, will meet Sunday afternoon and evening, Aug. 20 and the Gower reunion, Mrs. G. Roberts, president, will be held Sunday afternoon, Sept. 3.

Radiation Map For Astronauts

BLACKSBURG, Va. (AP) — A map that will enable astronauts to dodge dangerous radiation in outer space has been devised experimentally by space scientists at the State University of Iowa.

Dr. Carl McIlwain, an associate of Dr. James Van Allen, discoverer of the Van Allen belts that circle the earth, told about the "magnetic shell coordinates" at a conference of space scientists Tuesday.

The radiation count of the inner Van Allen belt, centered about 2,000 miles above the earth, has been found to vary in intensity in a heretofore unpredictable fashion.

Unshielded Geiger counters in artificial satellites have measured from 10 to 10,000 protons a second in the inner belt.

That means that scientists have been unable to tell an astronaut what dosages of radiation he would receive while passing through the belt, McIlwain said.

RD 4, found the brace and attached shoe on top of Godfrey's Ridge on Thursday, July 27. He said his mother had seen it by the side of the road two weeks before Hartman picked it up. Hartman took the brace to Line Material, where he works. He then brought it to the service station.

Where the brace came from in the first place, or why it would be discarded, is still undetermined.

Adds To Tour

LONDON (AP)—Princess Alexandra, the svelte, handsome cousin of Queen Elizabeth II who has become a chief goodwill missioner for the royal family, has added Aden to her fall tour. The 24-year-old princess previously had scheduled visits to Hong Kong, Japan, Burma and Thailand.

Dread the Hay Fever Season?

More than 500,000 people have been helped by the electronic miracle: Puritron! They feel better, work better, breathe cleaner, purer air.

Ask your family doctor or allergist whether he thinks Puritron can help you. Take his word. And the recommendation of more than half-a-million people who swear by Puritron. They say it helps. See for yourself. Plug it in; switch it on. Quietly, quickly, it pulls in air heavy with pollen (smoke, grease and odors, too). Filters it. Passes it over special electronic tubes. And out into your room: with pollen, smoke, grease and odors removed. Puritron is completely portable. Take it from room to room. Take it when you travel. Needs no installation, no window, vent or fan. Plugs into an ordinary 110-volt AC socket. Use the Puritron shown here for rooms as big as 15 x 15 feet. Get one today for a 10-day home trial. White, or grey. Unconditionally guaranteed to do all we say, or you get all your money back.

Just Between Us —

—By Bobby Westbrook

Maybe it wasn't as cool in the Pocono firehouse as it seemed, walking down the flower-bordered stairs and into the hall filled with flowers and a green oasis of laurel and rhododendron.

Maybe the committee got hot and bothered during all the excitement of setting up and judging but they were cool, calm and collected when we stepped in. In fact they were just having sandwiches and coffee during a lull in the visiting.

Actually, the Pocono Garden Club holds our only major summer flower show recently since the Monroe County Garden Club, discouraged by a succession of years of flood or drought just at Flower Show time, seemed to have retired from the fray.

While the calendar seems always to be bulging at the seams, a number of big annual events have fallen by the wayside. Remember the Horse Show up at Mount Pocono, and the Kennel Club Dog Show? The Laurel Blossom Ball regained much of its former glamour this year. Maybe we'll have a revival of the other big events too.

Although somebody's going to have to use a shoe horn to shove them in the calendar. Speaking of shoe horns—that's what the parking lot attendant at the Antique Show said he'd have to have if any more visitors turned up yesterday. They really had a mob.

Many of whom will probably come back again, since the show this year is really one of the better ones. The air may hang hot and heavy and the first sunbeams have barely turned but with the West End Fair coming up next—Summer has about had it, as the Republican Council will return to indoor meetings in September reminds me.

Local Girls Studying In Germany Surrounded By Refugee Neighbors

With the German crises making every day headlines, two youngsters from Stroud Twp. are living right along side many East German refugees.

Tru Hellmann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hellmann, and Lynne Schiebel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Schiebel, both of the Clearview section, are participating in a vacation study program in Germany. Tru is a student at Stroud Union High School and Lynne in East Stroudsburg State College.

Both have had two years of high school German and they're getting a chance to use it since they live with German families, go to school with French, Italian and Swiss students, and their lessons are conducted entirely in French and German.

Now midway through their studies, they are spending their second four weeks in Ravensburg on Lake Constance. In this town of 32,000, founded in the 11th century by the Guelphs, they find that 50 per cent of the people occupying apartments near them are East German refugees.

As Americans, they both have found that they are called upon to answer a great many questions about America by their German friends and families. Favorite questions are:

What do Americans think of the German people? What about President Kennedy?

What is the real story about American negroes? Have you a "boy friend?"

Isn't Germany beautiful? And "Are you full?" "Are you tired?" and, naturally from fellow students: "What do you think of German boys?"

The vacation study program is one sponsored by the schools of Europe with students from England, France, Germany, Spain and Italy. This is the second year that American students have been accepted by the Paris France Europe Assn. which organized the program.

Classes are conducted for the group for two hours each weekday morning in conversation and language exercises. Cultural, sports activities and excursions are planned for the afternoons. They live with private families selected to provide good family atmosphere.

Tru and Lynne left New York on July 4 by jet to Paris where they joined the rest of the group and continued by train to Andernach, Germany, on the Rhine River.

The school in Andernach was conducted entirely in French and German. While they both had studied German the fact that many of their classmates speak French has made it necessary to learn some of that as well.

A chance to see and hear German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer in Bonn was a highlight of their stay in Andernach which also included a visit to the cathedral in Cologne, to the castles of the area and the traditional boat ride on the Rhine.

At Ravensburg the girls were happy to find that one of their teachers can speak English. The town itself retains the walls and nine towers and its 15th Century tower hall in addition to the castle on the Veitsburg where Henry the Lion was born.

The girls will leave Ravensburg for Paris on Aug. 30 and spend four days in sightseeing there before they fly home.

Hostesses were Mrs. Effie Heller, chairman; Mrs. Mae Crane, Mrs. Jennie Siproth, Mrs. Lydia Kirkhuff and Miss Laura Court-right.

Refreshments will be on sale and the Monroe County Band will present a concert.

The 1961 reunion of the Wolbert Woolbert family will be held in the main pavilion at Nay Aug Park, Scranton on Sunday. Lunch which each family provides for themselves will be at noon. The business meeting will be held at 2 when officers will be elected and prizes will be distributed.

Everyone connected with the family is invited to attend, whether or not they have registered with the secretary.

The car wash being held by the Youth Fellowship of St. John's Lutheran Church will not be held until Saturday, Aug. 19.

Parking Lot Party For E. S. Bands

The community spirit of the old "block dances" may be revived at the outdoor festival to be sponsored by the East Stroudsburg Band Mothers on Friday night beginning at 7 in the parking lot of the Junior-Senior High School.

All three of the bands will play, including the elementary, junior high and senior high bands, and there will be free round dancing.

Baked goods and merchandise will be sold at the various stands.

Other entertainment includes weight guessing, pony ride, soda, coffee, cake, balloons, fish pond, ice cream sandwiches, hot dogs, coke-and-jar-rings game, prize tree and popcorn.

Men Judge Hat Show For Leisure Hour

The Leisure Hour Club borrowed some men from MORA to judge their hat show featured at the meeting at the YMCA yesterday afternoon. The hats, made from kitchen utensils, were modeled by their makers. William Metzgar and Frank Ellenberger awarded prizes to:

Mrs. Martha Starnier, prettiest; Mrs. Ruth Lender, most work; Mrs. Reinecke, most unusual; Mrs. Margaret Linder, funniest; Mrs. Ashton Burrows, most unusual; Mrs. Mae Crane, most practical.

At the business meeting, tentative plans were made for a bus trip to the Allentown Fair.

Seek Piano

It was also announced that the group is in need of a piano, and that anyone who has a piano they wish to get rid of may call HA 1-1340 to have it picked up.

Following their meeting, the group joined the MORA club for refreshments. Three birthday cakes honored three members of the Leisure Hour Club celebrating birthdays: Mrs. Agnes Price, Mrs. Martha Starnier and Mrs. Benjamin Pittman.

Hostesses were Mrs. Effie Heller, chairman; Mrs. Mae Crane, Mrs. Jennie Siproth, Mrs. Lydia Kirkhuff and Miss Laura Court-right.

Refreshments will be on sale and the Monroe County Band will present a concert.

Family Honors Irvin Butts

Irvin Butts of 212 North Ninth St., Stroudsburg, celebrated his 81st birthday yesterday. For many years he worked at the General Hospital, retiring about 18 months ago because of ill health.

Because of his health no formal birthday party was held but his children, grandchildren, great grandchildren and friends called to pay their respects during the day.

Cloverettes To Close Year

The Clearview Cloverettes 4-H Club will hold its final meeting on Friday morning at the home of Mary Metzgar.

At their meeting held at the home of Linda Weber, the cooking group made and served biscuits and the girls who are sewing completed their skirts. Each member wrote a paragraph on "Why I'm Proud to be a 4-H Club Member."

Peggy Henning presided at the business meeting when plans were discussed for the county-wide 4-H Club Picnic and the trip to Phoebe's Wax Works.

The judges were Mrs. Floyd

Three couples yesterday applied for marriage licenses at the office of N. Henry Fenner, clerk of orphans' court:

In the Solemn Hours... Flowers are more comforting than words

...no tribute can be more eloquent or more sincere. In the beauty of flowers is an affirmation of the faith which sustains all who have suffered loss.

Flowers...

The old-fashioned custom of sending flowers to funerals, increasingly supplanted by a terse "Please Omitt Flowers" in a death notice, is something worth preserving thinks the Rev. W. Carter Merbreier, 34, of St. Matthew's Lutheran Church in Philadelphia. In this month's pastoral letter to his flock, he pleaded eloquently for flowers—at his own funeral, in any case.

"Don't paste my easel with certificates for charities, and professional chair endowment, and the hundred-and-one do-gooder agencies ghoulishly squeezing through the door of the funeral parlor for a handout. If you are going to be big-hearted... do it on your own time... and don't wait for death to open up your heart to the needy and the sick. I believe flowers are proper and right at the time of death, beautifully symbolic of the brief human life, grown by God and thereby so precious to Him, even at its fading. So, no matter what others may say, send ME flowers. And don't use my last mortal remains as a charity income tax deduction."

Flowers Fill Firehouse For Pocono Club Show

Tannersville—Miss Emma Dunbar continued her winning ways of the past several years by again winning the Flower Show sweepstakes in the annual show sponsored by the Pocono Garden Club which opened yesterday in the Pocono Twp. Firehouse.

Miss Dunbar amassed a total of 65 points with her nearest competitor, Katurah Hartman, earning 38. Other high point winners were Ruth Dunbar, Esther Carson and Marjorie Canfield.

There were plenty of awards in the junior division, open to all children of the community under 16. Two arrangement classes were featured for juniors:

Arrangements suggesting a song: Won by Donna Hartman with "Me and My Teddy." Second place ribbons were awarded Joan Dunbar for "Yellow Bird" and to Patty Brader for "Lonely Little Fetunia in an Onion Patch."

Arrangements of mosses: Three first place ribbons were awarded in this division with Bonnie Smith, Jeanne Dunbar and Donna Hartman sharing honors.

The show will continue today between the hours of 1 to 9 p.m. and is open to the public.

The judges were Mrs. Floyd

Your Horoscope
By FRANCIS DRAKE

Thursday, August 10, 1961

March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — Even if pressed for time, stop to consider "thoughts" which matters should come first, which to eliminate, and with best procedure. Haste wastes time, energy, Mars urges patience.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus) — Whether you have abilities for the demands now being made upon you, you yourself must determine. Remember, we all can do better, achieve more when we try. Venus promotes artistic today.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini) — A day for some retrospection as well as action. One must complement the other. Don't take on more than you can reasonably handle. Mercury's favorable aspect stresses coordination.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer) — More than one way to attack, so if obstacles are potent along one route, try another, don't jump back and forth either, thus gain no ground. Moon's aspect urges faith!

July 24 to August 23 (Leo) — Day's line configurations favor art, music, literary efforts, science for worthy purposes, and all can benefit. The new method or item may be far greater than it shows, give it a chance.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo) — Be content with a little more, larger ones will come easier later. Each day is an entity and must be treated with care in its own right. Quiet, moorings of solitude have their place.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra) — Under Venus' present aspect, strong incline toward the operation and causes to benefit many are out front. Don't think good efforts are lost because they are not yet recognized.

October 24 to November 23 (Scorpio) — Rather strong planet aspects suggest you call a conference with your friends, relatives, and business to assure you are proceeding under right aims, tempo. Control purse strings.

November 24 to December 23 (Sagittarius) — It would be well to observe how others are feeling, thinking, struggling, achieving. Much of what you do must be guided by your special place in your community. KNOW your gifts.

December 24 to January 23 (Capricorn) — Don't let influence or your own feelings cause you to fluctuate, be up one hour, down the next. Day calls for evenness, smoothness, and tending to one's own affairs effectively.

January 24 to February 23 (Aquarius) — Regular business matters, meetings, outdoor activity (in moderation), and especially normal work, assisting children and the elderly highly favored. New gains for the competent thinking.

February 24 to March 23 (Pisces) — Neptune's very auspicious aspect should encourage you not to waste valuable moments, to show your versatility, and to take on a fresh interest or passion for more hours.

YOU BORN TODAY are in the heart of Leo, the Lion. You are brave, buoyant, and sometimes surprisingly outspoken for your truly diffident, conscientious nature. You can depend upon affection, are not happy without it. So take care with whom you associate. Your industrious, magnetic nature beckons success, and with seemingly little effort, attract friends in high places. Join worthwhile, large-scale projects. Don't overdo, your overindulgence may hurt you. Be sensible in diet. Many noted lecturers, inspirational speakers in this sector. Your personality persuades. Birthdate of: Herbert Hoover, 1st Pres. of the U. S., Luther Burbank, world-famed horticulturalist; many noted artists.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in each of the words in the box. If the number is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

West End Fair Opens Aug. 29

THE 1961 premium list for the 40th Annual West End Fair, to be held in Gilbert on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Aug. 29-31, was released yesterday.

This year there will be a Monroe County 4-H Horse and Pony Club horse show on Aug. 30, and a West End Fair Horse Show the following day.

There will be a tractor driving contest, and prizes will be awarded for exhibits in 15 divisions.

The divisions are cattle, swine, sheep, poultry, pigeons and pet stock; hay, corn, grain and potatoes; garden produce; fruits, cakes, candies, pastry and bread; canned fruits, vegetables, jellies and preserves.

Also apary products; crochet work, knitting, embroidery, and all needlework; flowers and potted plants; group display; vocational agriculture; and high school homemaking classes.

This year the officers are: President, Paul R. Everett; vice president, Floyd C. Altomere; secretary, LeRoy J. Hinton, and treasurer, Arlington D. Smith.

Wrong Field Slice

Cards Blank Pirates 4-0 On Javier's Grand Slam

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Julian Javier sliced an opposite-field grand slam home run in the eighth inning against Pittsburgh Wednesday night, breaking a scoreless duel for a 4-0 St. Louis victory, their seventh straight.

Javier's blast, only his second of the year, came off starter Joe Gibbon after Curt Flood and Jim Schaffer singled and pinch-hitter Don Taussig got the first walk of the game. The winning sock was fair by only a few feet as it went into the right field stands.

Tight Battle
Up to that inning, Gibbon and Curt Simmons were engaged in a tight battle. Gibbon, whose record now is 8-7, had allowed only four hits and hadn't permitted a man to reach third.

Simmons was equally as stingy. He gave the Pirates five hits in that time and likewise halted Pittsburgh runners at second. He didn't walk a batter.

Redlegs Blank Phillies

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds Wednesday night defeated Philadelphia 5-0 behind the six-hit pitching of Joey Jay who racked up his 16th victory against seven defeats.

The victory, the Reds' 16th straight without a loss against the Phils this year, is one short of the NL record set by the Pittsburgh Pirates over the Reds in 1936.

The second-place Reds collected seven safeties, including Elio Chacón's first National League homer, off southpaw Don Ferrarese, now a nine-time loser.

Scores 1st Run
Chacón also scored the Reds' first run in the third inning. He walked, went to third on Eddie Kasko's single and came in as Vada Pinson, attempting to stop his swing, sent a line single to center. In the fourth, Wally Post singled, went to second on an error and crossed on Jerry Zimmerman's single.

Pinson also scored the Reds' first run in the third inning. He walked, went to third on Eddie Kasko's single and came in as Vada Pinson, attempting to stop his swing, sent a line single to center. ## Negro Grid Pros Get Green Light

ROANOKE, Va. (AP)—Negroes on the Baltimore Colts and Pittsburgh Steelers football squads Wednesday got the go-ahead to play in a charity exhibition game before a segregated audience here Saturday night.

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the game in Victory Stadium, which had wired the Negro players requesting that they boycott withdrew its request—apparently because the game is a charity affair—following a conference with officials of the Colts, the Steelers and the sponsoring Roanoke Chamber of Commerce.

Immediately afterward, National Football League commissioner

Pete Rozelle gave the Negro players the green light to compete—though with evident reluctance.

Rozelle, in a statement read here by Don Kellett, executive vice president and general manager of the Colts, said racial segregation is "repugnant" but that the Negroes should compete "because of the charity involved" which "will be a real benefit to children of all races."

Unhealthy Condition
"This incident has focused the attention of the National Football League on the unhealthy condition existing in cities of this type," Rozelle said.

"I am hopeful that in future seasons clubs of the National Football League will not play games to segregated audiences."

The game is being played for the sandlot benefit program in which Negro and white teams share alike.

Kellett made Rozelle's statement public after a lengthy meeting here with members of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, which had requested Negro players of the Colts and Steelers squads not to play Saturday night.

After the meeting, the NAACP withdrew its request. Kellett obtained Rozelle's statement by telephoning Rozelle's New York office.

Segregated Basis
Tickets are being sold on a segregated basis for the exhibition game as required by Virginia law requiring racial separation at public gatherings.

The meeting, which lasted nearly five hours, was called after Negro players on both teams had been reached by telegram by the Rev. R. R. Wilkinson, president of the Roanoke chapter of the NAACP.

At least four Steelers — John Henry Johnson, Gene (Big Duddy) Lipscomb, John Nisby and Charlie Scales, and two of the Colts — Lenny Moore and Joe Perry — received telegrams from Wilkinson.

Bell Hurls Tribe Over Nats, 3-1

CLEVELAND (AP)—Gary Bell pitched a three-hitter, getting help from John Romano's two-run single, as Cleveland beat the Washington Senators Wednesday night, 3-1.

The Indians got all their runs in the fourth.
Bubba Phillips tied the score at 1-1 with a double after Tito Francona and Willie Kirkland singled. Then Romano singled, scoring Phillips and Kirkland.

Washington took a 1-0 lead in the first. With two out, Bud Zupfel walked a solo homer over the left field fence, his second of the season.

The only other Senators' hits were singles by Marty Koussin in the second and Danny O'Connell in the ninth.

Junior Football League Meeting

CANDIDATES for the Varsity "S" Club sponsored junior football program are asked to register Saturday at 10 a.m. at Gordon Giffels Field.

In case of rain, the registration will be held in the locker room in back of the grandstand.

The league is open to boys from 11 to 14 years old, who live in the Stroud Union School District. Players must weigh between 80 and 135 pounds. Allowances will be made for players who do not quite meet the weight requirements.

Players must present either birth or baptismal certificates when they register.

Wright Will Replace Paret

NEW YORK (AP) — Benny (Kid) Paret of Cuba, former world welterweight boxing champion, withdrew from a Saturday night bout with Don Fullmer of West Jordan, Utah, because of an injury to his right shoulder.

Teddy Wright of Detroit was subbed for Paret as an opponent for Fullmer in the Madison Square Garden bout to be televised (ABC) nationally.

Wright has a 36-6-3 record.

Coates Blanks LA 4-0 As Yanks Stretch Lead

NEW YORK (AP)—Jim Coates pitched his second straight four-hit victory Wednesday as the New York Yankees won their seventh successive game 2-0 over the Los Angeles Angels. It also was the eighth in a row for the Yankees over the Angels at Yankee Stadium.

Coates went the route for the first time Saturday when he beat Minnesota 2-1. A crowd of 17,261 saw the tall Virginian dole out only four singles to the Angels.

Mantle Starts Attack

Ted Bowfield, a 26-year-old lefty, didn't allow a hit until Mickey Mantle led off the Yankee fifth with a single to left. Elston Howard also singled to left, moving Mantle to third, and Bill Skowron's sacrifice fly to left field scored Mantle.

Skowron tripled off the wall in right center opening the seventh and scored on Bowfield's wild pitch. When Hector Lopez followed with a single, Bowfield gave way to Tom Morgan who escaped without further damage.

Catcher Gets $50,000 Bonus

DETROIT (AP)—Willie Horton, 18, a burly sandlot catching star, has agreed to sign a Detroit Tiger bonus contract for $50,000 — the largest ever offered a Negro prospect, the Detroit News reported Monday.

Horton is an Arnold, Va., native who slugged his way to stardom on the Detroit sandlots and drew the attention of at least seven other major league teams. He reportedly rejected a $50,000 contract from the Red Sox.

Horton, a 5-10, 190-pound youth who starred for Northeastern High School and later hit 400 in sandlot play, reportedly agreed to terms which will place him in triple-A ball next year and permit him to play winter baseball.

Colorado State's Bears have won the Rocky Mountain Conference baseball title 19 straight times. They had a 25-5 record this spring.

Pittsburg's Bob Friend faced 1,118 National League batters in 1950 and didn't hit one man.

Only addition to the Pittsburgh Pirates since last season is relief pitcher Bobby Shantz.

Sigel Wins Shawnee Junior With 69

JAY SIGEL, of Philadelphia, two-time Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Assn. golf champion, won the Fred Waring Junior Golf Championship at Shawnee Inn Wednesday, with a three-under-par 69.

Sigel, who took the event last year, when it was called the Shawnee Junior Open, captured this year's tourney, when Tom Hyndman also of Philadelphia bogied the final hole, to finish with 70.

Another Philadelphia, Steve Probst, the only other golfer in the field of 210 to equal or better par, was third with 72.

In fourth place was 13-year-old Johnny LaPonzina of Miami with 73. LaPonzina is the National Pee Wee golf titlist.

Sigel, who plans to enter the University of Houston next month, had nine hole scores of 36-33. He had only one bogey on his card but took a double bogey six on the fifth hole, when he three-putted.

"If I had putted as well last week as I did today," Sigel said after he finished, "I would be the happiest person alive."

Last week, Sigel finished second in the United States Golf Assn. junior championship at Ithaca, N. Y., and a balky putter cost him the title.

It was two chip shots that probably won the title for Sigel, a June graduate of Lower Merion High School.

His four iron shot to the five par 15th hole stopped about 60 feet from the cup but he wedged the ball to within four feet and rapped in the putt for a bird. That put the Philadelphia youngster two under and he birdied the 16th to go three under.

He had LaPonzina by two shots then and was a stroke ahead of Probst, who was playing in the same threesome.

Hyndman, playing in the threesome in front of Sigel, birdied the 15th, 16th and 17th to go three under.

But Sigel did not know that he and Hyndman were tied, as he reached the 17th tee.

He played a three wood off the tee, explaining, "I wanted to make sure I was short of the fairway trap."

LaPonzina was in the trap and his second shot landed in another trap, bordering the green.

Sigel hooked a seven iron to the left of the green and fished a chip shot to within inches of the cup for his par.

Hyndman, whose dad Bill is a frequent member of the United States Walker Cup team, blew his chances when his tee shot on 18 drifted off line. He had a difficult 100-foot chip shot to the par three green and was left with a seven footer for a par. But the putt stayed on the lip and he had to settle for a bogey and 70.

Sigel missed his tee shot on 18, a 185-yard wide open hole, but the ball kicked onto the green, 15 feet from the hole.

He lagged the ball to the hole but almost lagged it too much. His four footer for the par, however, was dead center.

The young juniors title (under 12 years old), went to Bobby Huber of Lebanon Country Club, who had 39 for nine holes. Carl Weichel of Shawnee was second at 42 and Robert Howard, of Chester Valley C.C., finished third with 43.

The girls division was taken by Margaret Andrews of Lake Mohawk C.C., Sparta, N. J. Miss Andrews edged Jane Jansen, also of Lake Mohawk by a stroke. Miss Andrews had 49. Sharon Bostick, of Shawnee, with 53 was third.

Green Plan Blasted By Democrats

PENNSYLVANIA Democrats, with the exception of Philadelphians, are blasting the Congressional reapportionment plan unfolded Monday by Rep. Stephen McCann, House majority leader.

"This looks like a declaration of war on the rest of the Pennsylvania Democrats by Philadelphia," said Rep. Daniel Flood, D-Luzerne.

Complicating the problem is that on the basis of the 1960 census, Pennsylvania's congressional districts must be reduced from 30 to 27.

Rep. Francis Walter, D-Easton, said that they should take districts that have lost in population. Instead of representing Northampton, Carbon and Monroe Counties, his district would be coupled with all of Bucks, including Bensalem Township.

Friends of Walter say that if the reapportionment goes through, it will preclude a try for chance of Walter remaining in government next year. He said he will retire then.

Rep. William J. Green, D-Phila., Tuesday offered to debate "any one on television or anywhere at any time" on the merits of the reapportionment plan.

"This is no arbitrary plan," Green told a reporter, "it is a sensible way to reduce Pennsylvania's congressional districts from 30 to 27 along population lines."

Green is Democratic city chairman in Philadelphia.

Army Reserve To Mark End Of Training

OFFICERS and enlisted men of Troop B 9th Cal., Stroudsburg Army Reserve, will hold a party Saturday at 8:30 p.m. in the Flying W Ranch, Cresco.

The reserve members will be hosts to the wives and sweethearts at the party and all will celebrate a successful two-week summer training period.

There will be a square dance band with dancing from 9 to midnight.

A buffet luncheon will be served.

Question Box

(Continued from page nine) one. Some years they bloom and some years not, even though the foliage is nice and thrifty. Is there a male and female hydrangea tree?"

No. These plants are not completely winter-hardy. Buds usually kill off, even though the rest of the plants are perfectly normal. During mild winters some of the buds often escape injury and that's why you get flowers one year, none the next.

Free: If you want to know more about Hydrangeas, send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope for a copy of my bulletin, All About Hydrangeas and Wisterias. Our guide is full of good tips on raising these handsome plants. Please be sure to check your return address! I had scads of letters which cannot be answered because of improper addressing. Never use "city" or "local" for your town or city.

Calculated Risk Fails; Boy Dies

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP)—"What is there to say when your son insists on taking a calculated risk by undergoing a delicate heart operation and loses the gamble?"

M.Sgt. William L. Morris, stationed at Westover Air Force Base, said in an interview with the Springfield Daily News he was explaining his reaction because some people thought he and the boy's mother should not have permitted the operation.

Their son, William L. Jr., 16, died in Chelsea Naval Hospital Friday after an operation designed to close a hole in his heart.

"If other parents, because of our son's misfortune, become so fearful of this surgery that they deny their children the same chance of recovery our son had, then he died for nothing," the sergeant said. "We couldn't stand for that."

Morris said the ultimate decision to go through the dangerous operation was made by the son. "My son knew the dangers involved—he had lived with it for the past year and insisted on the operation," the father said.

"He wanted a chance at complete recovery for himself, and he told me he wanted it for others as well. His lost life would be wasted if people came to fear his example. His mother and I want him to stand for something creative—not for fear."

Chelsea doctors said the boy was the first patient in medical history to be kept alive during an operation by his own reconstituted blood. He had donated the blood to a bank over a seven-month period.
